6 backup system!

① The dedicated staff

Each student can get advice from career instructors (e.g. selecting school, preparing for school application, practicing interview).

② Guidance video for entering universities

We provide a lot of guidance videos that show you what you need to do to go to next level of education. These videos are recommended for students who want to prepare and review about going to next level of education.

③ Information session for going to next level of education

We hold regular information sessions for going to next level of education. Students can get information directly from teachers of graduate schools, universities, and vocational schools.

④ School tour

You will have the opportunity to visit universities and vocational schools, and you can attend classes there. Once you go to these schools, you can know about these schools well.

⑤ Practice exam for EJU/JLPT

By taking a practice exam one month before each exam, you will know the passing line.

⑥ Designated school recommendation

We have received designated school recommendation frames from about 40 universities and vocational schools.

You need to know your weak points! Proficiency Test

《The overview of proficiency test》

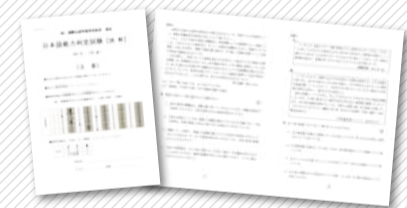

Target	Students above intermediate level. * For night class student, the student can take the exam if they wish.

Support for student life in Japan

Support for a safe and comfortable life

Housing

While our school does not have student dormitories, we can refer you to external dormitory providers and property management companies that can assist you in finding rental accommodations that meet your preferences.

Various procedures

After your arrival in Japan, our staff will provide detailed explanations and assistance with essential procedures, including address registration on your residence card, enrollment in National Health Insurance, and opening a bank account, during an orientation offered in multiple languages.

Visiting a hospital

If you are not confident in speaking Japanese, our multilingual staff will accompany you to a nearby hospital or help you find a hospital that offers language support, depending on your condition.

Three-tier support system

The homeroom teacher, dedicated career advisor, and multilingual support staff will assist through one-on-one meetings, providing support for Japanese language learning, career counseling, and daily life.

NICKLAS
from Sweden

Start

7:15am (Wake up)

When I wake up, I eat light breakfast and get ready for school.

I leave the house 20 minutes before the class starts. It usually takes 15 minutes for me to get to the school but I leave my house a little bit earlier for not being late.

9:00am (Class start)

90 minutes x 2 classes
I will do my best to study Japanese!

12:20pm (Class end)

Today's class is over! I am hungry!

2:00pm (Shopping and lunch)

Checking the price of vegetable!

Let's see what I am going to make for tonight...

4:00pm (Study time)

Go back to Study room at school and do the homework or review what I learned. I am having the hard time to study Kanji.

6:00pm (Dinner)

My girlfriend comes to my dormitory and we prepare the dinner together. I will cook for her tonight! I am good at cooking Curry Rice.

8:00pm (Relax time)

It is relaxing time. I usually read a book or watch tv.

0:00am (Sleep)

Take a bath and feel clean! Good night☆

Message to prospective students from NICKLAS

It has been almost two years since I came to Japan but I remember clearly the first day of the school. I started from beginner class and now I am studying for N1 level. I cannot believe how much I improve my Japanese level. Not only I improve my Japanese level, but the path that I should choose is clearly guided! This place can help to expand the possibility of yours.

The Typical Day as International Student

Start

9:00am (Wake up)

My class starts from afternoon, so I don't need to wake up early. I eat breakfast lightly.

10:00am (Study)

At home, I review what I learned yesterday and prepare for today's class.

HUANG
from Taiwan

12:00pm (Lunch)

I cook something for lunch before going to school.

Today, I prepare for fried rice!

11:00pm (Finish my part-time job and going home)

I normally work five hours a day. I take a bath and have a relax time when I get home.

1:00am (Homework)

I study 30 minutes before going to bed.

1:30am (Sleep)

I had a good day today! Good night☆

6:00pm (Start part-time job)

I do my part-time job at Korean barbeque restaurant three time a week. The communication with customers help my Japanese improve!

4:30pm (Class end)

I studied so much for today! I will go home now and cook something for dinner.

5:30pm (Dinner)

I eat well before going to my part-time job!

1:10pm (Class start)

The concentration of studying for 90 minutes are very hard but I do my best to learn!

Going to school by bicycle from dormitory takes approximately 20 minutes. I don't like to ride the bicycle when raining but I usually like to go to school riding the bicycle. I normally arrive at the school ten minutes before the class start.
